

Khaleej Times: Revolutionising News Consumption

Khaleej Times, the UAE's premier news website, has partnered with Centric, a leading digital solutions provider, to transform the digital news landscape. This collaboration aims to create a modern, user-friendly platform that redefines news consumption across the region, setting new standards in online journalism whilst maintaining the trusted editorial excellence that readers expect.

The Challenge: Building Tomorrow's News Platform

User Experience Priority

Creating an intuitive interface that allows seamless content discovery and engagement across all devices and platforms.

Modern Technology Integration

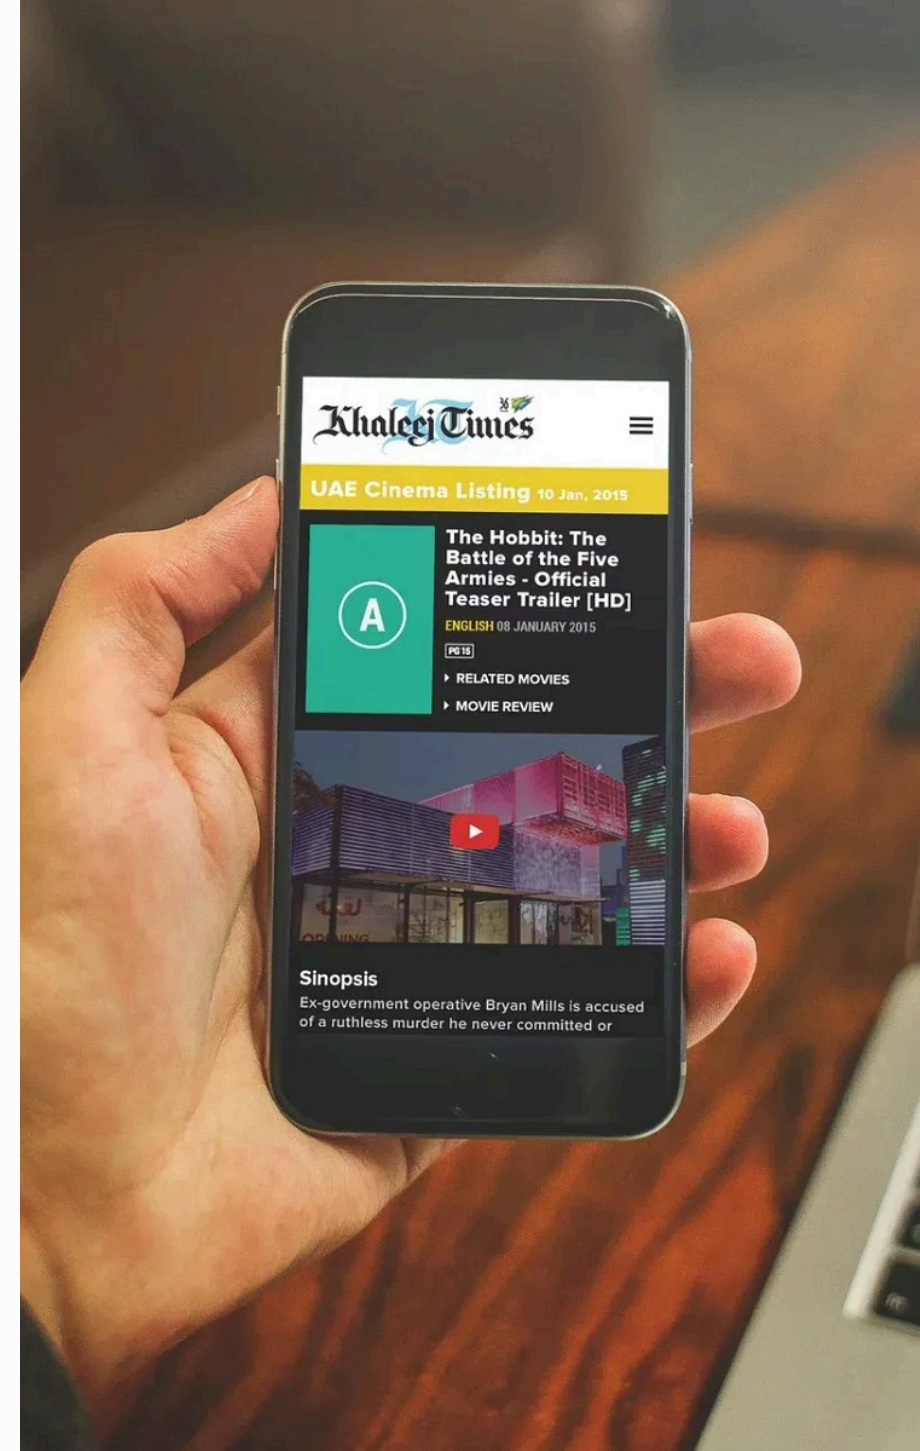

Implementing cutting-edge technologies to ensure responsive design and optimal performance for diverse user needs.

Brand Credibility Enhancement

Developing a visually appealing platform that reinforces Khaleej Times' position as the UAE's leading news authority.

Centric collaborated proactively with Khaleej Times to analyse user behaviour patterns and identify opportunities for improvement. Through comprehensive research and strategic planning, we identified key areas where technology could enhance the traditional news consumption experience, ensuring readers could access vital information quickly and efficiently.

Exceptional Results: Measurable Impact

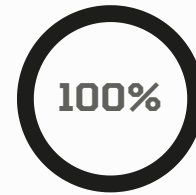

User Engagement Increase

Significant improvement in reader interaction and content consumption across all platform sections.

Bounce Rate Reduction

Substantial decrease in users leaving the site immediately, indicating improved content relevance and user experience.

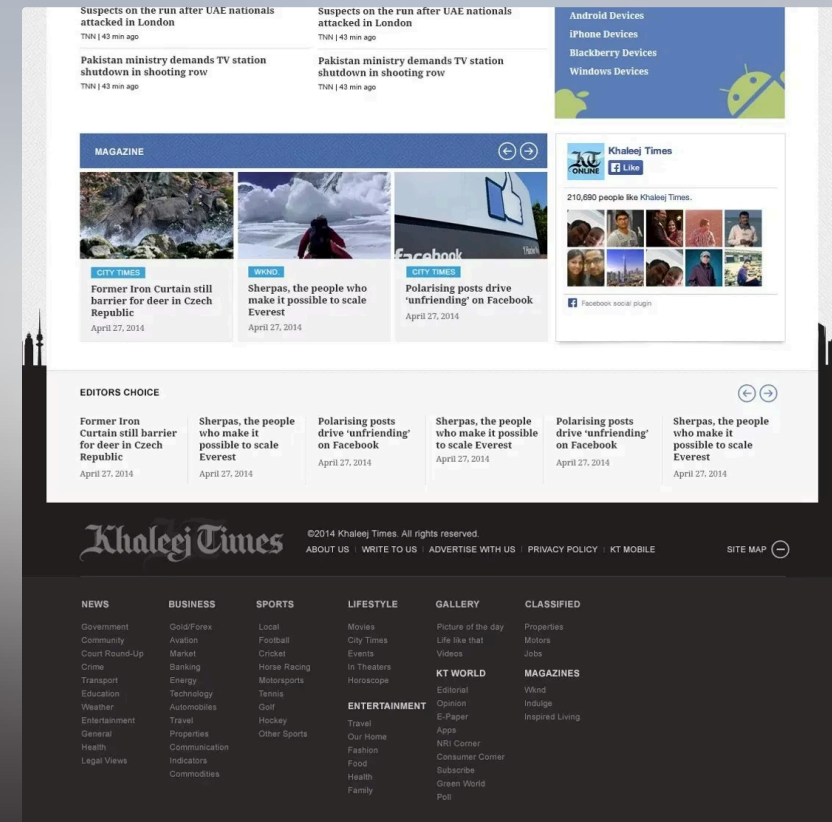

Growth Achievement

Significant increase in average time spent per session, demonstrating enhanced user engagement and content quality.

The website redesign delivered transformational results that exceeded expectations. User engagement metrics improved dramatically, with reduced bounce rates and increased session duration demonstrating the platform's enhanced appeal. The dynamic and responsive design successfully expanded Khaleej Times' digital reach whilst strengthening brand credibility in the competitive news market.
